

CMT Postdoctoral Positions at Rice University

The Condensed Matter Theory Group at Rice University expects the opening of one or more postdoctoral positions to begin in Fall 2011. The successful candidate(s) will be able to interact with Prof. Adilet Imambekov, Prof. Andriy Nevidomskyy, Prof. Peter Nordlander, Prof. Srinivas Raghu, Prof. Qimiao Si, other postdocs and students in our theory group, as well as an active group of experimentalists. The areas of interest include strongly correlated electronic, magnetic and atomic systems, mesoscopics and photonics. Applicants should send a curriculum vitae including a list of publications, a brief statement of research interests, one or two selected (p)reprints, and arrange for three letters of recommendation to be sent to <vcall@rice.edu> with subject line "CMT Postdoc Search" (pdf format preferred), or by postal mail to CMT Postdoc Search, c/o Valerie Call, Physics & Astronomy Department - MS 61, Rice University, 6100 Main Street, Houston, TX 77005, USA. In order to ensure full consideration, applications should be complete by December 1st, 2010. Exceptionally qualified candidates will be nominated for a G. K. Walters Fellowship, which carries a substantial supplement for salary and research support; details can be found on the website <<http://www.physics.rice.edu>> under [Open Positions]. Rice University is an EO/AA employer.
